

Early phonics/ pre-phonics games sessions

For those who are in EY, Juniors or Middle who we want to include in our Read Write Inc provision but are unable to access the more formal programme of activities and lessons, these games will expose these learners to the grapheme (letter shape) and phoneme (letter sound) in fun and interactive ways. This awareness can be built upon over time to gauge grapheme phoneme correspondence (GPCs) (that letter shape goes with that sound and vice versa)

Water squirt	Use a squirty bottle, watering can, water guns or wet brushes on chalk letters. "a, aaapple, around the apple and down the leaf (as you write in chalk) Squirt a"
Posting phonics	Post speed sound cards through a gap cut into a shoe box, through a letterbox, or other posting station.
Sensory writing	Writing and mark making in sand, foam, gel, lentils.
Multi-media writing	Use pencils, pens, paint, crayons, coloured glue etc
Sound splat	Use fly swat, squeaky joke hammer or other tool to hit speed sound cards or written grapheme.
Sound stomp	Find the sound around the classroom floor/playground. Move to jump on/stomp on the sound.
Sound card sensory bin	Discovery speed sound cards hidden in sensory trays
Phonics fishing	Use magnetic letters and magnetic line, or nets to fish out letters from water table.

Feely bag	Items in feely bag for initial sounds (bags used for letters and sounds programme in the past – EY dept.)
Hunt the letter	Find letter cards hidden around classroom. Match to the letter the teacher holds, or make word on board (CVC)
Hunt the sound	Find sounds on recordable buttons around the classroom. (as above)
Magic letter reveal	Use layered tissue paper. Reveal letter when paper is made wet.
Letter bingo	Array of 4/6/8/10 letters to identify as the bingo calls each phoneme.
Sound/word lotto or board games	Simple games based on bingo/lotto boards, or dice through game. Identify each letter or word in the row, or on the box you land on.

You tube channels: Ruth Miskin, Oxford owl, Saxon way school, Bede community primary school, Little big fox all have lots of Read Write Inc phonics lessons posted on their pages and many more will have specific sound, fred talk, word-time or storybook sessions when googled specifically.

Remember we have access to online resources via oxford owl website too.